

01 / SAVE YOUR OWN COPY

Our starting point

Save a copy before typing. Use a PDF reader that supports forms. Save, close and reopen to check your entries. Blank pages can also be printed. This is a record, not a diagnostic test.

Dog name / date

What happens around leaving?

Known comfortable situations (not a maximum-duration test)

What does relaxed behaviour look like for my dog?

Questions for our veterinarian or behaviour professional

02 / SUPPORT & COVER

A plan for daily life

Plan the full absence. Confirm your dog is comfortable with the person and setting. Keep contact details private.

Dates / times when company is needed

Who can stay, where, and for which hours?

Backup arrangement if plans change

Care instructions / agreed response if the dog struggles

03 / DUPLICATE THIS PAGE

One session, clearly recorded

Use one page per session. Describe what you saw; do not infer calm from silence or eating alone. This recording key is not a clinical scale.

Date / time

Actual time + unit (sec / min / none)

Planned action and context

What actually happened? Body, movement, sound, recovery

Comfortable / uncertain / distress - and why?

Action taken and next question / easier step

04 / PATTERNS, NOT RECORDS

A weekly check-in

Review comfort and context. The longest absence is not the goal. Leave gaps when no practice happened.

Week beginning

Comfortable situations observed this week

Uncertainty, difficulties or changes in routine

Support arrangements that worked

Questions / plan to review with our professional

05 / SETBACK RECORD

When plans change

Describe the event without blame. If distress or injury occurs, stop practice and seek appropriate help. Do not automatically repeat a previous duration.

Date / situation

What happened and what did I observe?

Possible context changes (mark guesses as uncertain)

What support or easier arrangement did we use?

Recovery observations / professional follow-up needed
